Hi! I'm Travis, Austin's Rebel With A Camera.

Ever wonder what some of the tricks of the professional photography trade are? Well, I've seen more than I care to remember about the way things can be done and have become a contributing editor here at Picture My Camera on the internet to tell you all about camera accessories which are really what make a picture great. A digital camera is one small piece of the puzzle in making well lit, beautiful pictures. I'll tell you about some of the games I've learned about in the coming months.
